

FLIGHT LEVELS ACADEMY

Certificate of Completion Flight Levels Introduction

A Flight Level Academy Certification

Manuel Müller

has completed the online course Introduction to Flight Levels.

Participants learn how to recognise the problems facing organisations going through digital and agile transformations, how to spot them in their organisation and how to start tackling them. Attendees also engage with other experienced practitioners and learn from their examples and case studies.

Upon completion, participants understand the foundations of Flight Levels and how it helps create interactions across departments, teams, products, and services.
